

Change your mind.

March 1, 2010

This letter is to express my high commendation of James “Bird” Guess, in the message he has for university students. The passion in his presentation and the hard-won principles of life success that he communicates provide the roadmap to personal fulfillment and making a positive difference in the world.

Beyond his program, James is a delight to work with – prompt, dependable, cooperative, and committed to delivering a meaningful and highly relevant service to students.

UNT Dallas will definitely utilize James in its future programming for student leadership, motivation, financial freedom, and personal excellence!
